

Valwood Park Place I & II

CARROLLTON / FARMERS BRANCH, TEXAS

Valwood Park Place I: 3.63 acres; 52,400-square-foot building
 Valwood Park Place II: 5.72 acres; 96,500-square-foot building
 Client/Partner: Hunt Resources, Inc., and
 Southwest Publishing Company
 Opened in 1986 and 1988
 Sold in 1987 and 1989

PROJECT TYPE: OFFICE/WAREHOUSE/
 DISTRIBUTION FACILITIES

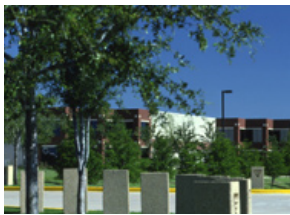

The Valwood Park Place buildings were built as office/warehouse/distribution facilities within the Woodbine-developed, 400-acre Valwood Park. Valwood Park Place I was built on spec and was fully leased within months, and Valwood Park Place II was a build-to-suit project. Both were fully sprinklered and offered 4-foot by 8-foot skylights, which could be used to evacuate smoke; abundant natural lighting; and extensive professional landscaping.

Park Place II

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The office/warehouse buildings benefited from their location within the well-established Valwood Park, only 10 minutes from Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport and from Dallas Love Field. Valwood Park Place II was 37 percent leased before construction even began. Valwood Park was one of the first business parks in the Metroplex designed for industrial use and offered easy access to I-35E.

Valwood Park Place I's first tenant was Houston Wire & Cable Company, Inc., which leased 22,400 square feet in 1986, the same year construction on the building was completed. Decorator House, Inc., filled the building's remaining 30,000 square feet in 1987. Valwood Park Place II was built for Southwestern Publishing Company, Inc., which leased 29,218 square feet of the building. Construction on Valwood Park Place II began in 1987 and was completed in 1988. Valwood Park Place I was sold in 1987 and Valwood Park Place II was sold in 1989.

Woodbine served as developer and project manager on both projects.
